

NOT WASHED CLEAN BY IMMUNITY BATH

Judge Carpenter Holds That the Indicted Packers of the Meat Trust Must Go to Court for Trial.

GOVERNMENT WINS NOTABLE VICTORY

Chicago, March 22.—The indicted Chicago packers lost their fight against going to trial on the indictments secured by the government several months ago, when Judge Carpenter in the United States district court today overruled their demurrer to the charges and held that the immunity granted by Judge Humphrey, of the federal circuit court, in 1908, did not apply to the present charges, which, he held, were based on evidence not included in the Humphrey decision.

Judge Carpenter's decision went into the controversy relating to immunity with great detail.

In brief, the packers' position was that any conspiracy that might have existed was the plotting prior to Judge Humphrey's immunity decision, and that the immunity from prosecution granted them extended over all future time, so long as the acts covered by the 1906 decision remained the same.

Did Not Apply to Future Acts.

In deciding this Judge Carpenter ruled that the immunity granted them was only for acts which had occurred prior to the date of the indictment, and could not pertain to any unlawful act which was performed after that time. Evidence given by the packers before the grand jury, he said, could not relate to that which had not occurred, and hence could have no future application.

As to the contention of the defense that the conspiracy ended with the first plotting, he ruled that so long as the acts complained of continued the conspiracy remained in effect, and unlawful acts growing out of the conspiracy and occurring after the indicted men had testified before the grand jury were new and separate offenses and subject to the operation of law.

Can Be Used in Prosecutions.

In addition the offenses admitted before the grand jury by the packers prior to their immunity and from the criminal responsibility for which they were freed by the Humphrey decision, were defined by the court as none the less criminal in themselves. He said they could be used in prosecutions which were predicated on a continuation of the offenses.

"My conclusion is," said Judge Carpenter, "that the immunity furnished related to present and not future crimes. The motion to quash the indictments will be denied."

Judge Carpenter denied the government's motion to strike the packers' pleas in abatement from the record and instructed the government to reply to the pleas. He said a demurrer to the pleas might be filed, however.

The packers were instructed to be in court March 27 and report what action they proposed to take. They were given twenty days by the court in which to file exceptions, the order given to stay being without appeal.

Those Under Indictment.

The indicted packers are: Louis F. Swift, Edward E. Swift, Francis A. Fowler and Charles H. Swift, of Swift & Co.; Edward Tilden, president of the National Packing company; J. Ogden Armour, Arthur Meeker and Thomas J. Conners, of Armour & Co.; Edward Morris and Louis Heyman, of Morris & Co.

The chief object of the government's attack is the National Packing company, of which the indicted men are directors or are otherwise interested. It was organized in 1903 with a capital of $15,000,000. It is chiefly a holding company, it owns or controls, according to the government's claim, twenty-one other minor companies, including the various Hammond properties, the Anglo-American companies, Detroit Beef company, Fowler company, of Kansas City, United Dressed Beef company, of New York, three refrigerating car companies, the St. Louis Dressed Beef and Provision company, Hutchinson Packing company, of Kansas, Continental Packing company, etc.

Immunity Bath Given Five Years Ago.

Judge Otis Humphrey's immunity decision in the United States circuit court was given March 21, 1908, five years ago to a day. The investigations against the beef packers really began in 1908, when Judge Peter S. Grosscup enjoined them from entering into a conspiracy to control the industry.

The present indictments—three of them—were returned last September, and there still exists a subsequent indictment—returned in December, which was secured by the government to go into effect should Judge Carpenter's decision be against the prosecution.

MUCH LIKE A WARD CAUCUS

Scenes at Cammorist Trial in Viterbo Court Be- come Riotous.

ACCUSED MEN JOIN IN THE MIGHTY DIN

Prosecutors and Lawyers of Defense Have Wrangle Amid Confusion.

Viterbo, Italy, March 22.—Angry exchanges between opposing counsel at today's session of the trial of the cammorists provoked a demonstration from the prisoners' cage beyond the control of the court officials that necessitated a suspension of the proceedings. The accused men alternately cursed in rage and sobbed hysterically while their women friends in the audience screamed and fainted, the wife of one of the prisoners being seized with convulsions.

The Scene Begins.

The scene was enacted soon after the resumption of the sitting. At the time of the adjournment yesterday Giuseppe Salvi, one of those alleged to have stabbed to death Genaro Guercio and his wife, was being interrogated by President Bianchi concerning his career.

This morning Salvi was called for cross-examination. It is charged that he is the man who furnished the first evidence of Guercio's treachery in the Camorra and brought about his sentence of death. In a letter written from the prison, where he was confined for robbery, he asserted that Guercio had betrayed him to the police because he had given a share of the booty of his crime to another than Guercio.

He Called upon his Brother Camorrist to Avenge him.

Ring Is Produced.

President Bianchi suddenly produced a ring which is said to have been taken from Guercio and holding it so that it could be seen by all in the court room, said:

"This is the ring found in the home of 'John' woman associate."

The statement called forth a chorus of protests from the prisoners, who shouted, "No, no. It is not Guercio's ring; it is not his!"

The cries grew louder and were taken up by sympathizers in the audience. Then Lawyer Liguori, president of the board of attorneys of Naples, who is defending the informer, Genaro Abbatemaggio, pushed his way to the space in front of the great steel cage, and staring into the eyes of the accused men, exclaimed: "Yes, that is Guercio's ring."

Lawyers Take a Hand.

This interruption brought the scores of lawyers for the defense into the fray, and as the exclamation of the prisoners grew louder these lawyers made a verbal attack upon Liguori that threw the whole court room into an uproar. In the babel of tongues one could distinguish these oft repeated exclamations:

"Who pays you the price of Abbate-maggio's shame?"

"You are paid from the secret funds of the government."

"You were sent here under orders from the Carabinieri."

"This attack was encouraged by the prisoners, who applauded as they exclaimed 'Bravo, bravo!'"

VAST AREA IS SHAKEN.

Five Hundred Pounds of Powder Let Go at Port Clinton, Ohio.

Port Clinton, Ohio, March 22.—Four persons were hurt, but none seriously, when 500 pounds of powder exploded at the plant of the American Gypsum company, at Gypsum, early today. A shift of workmen was leaving the plant and it is supposed that a spark from a pipe or cigarette caused the explosion. The shock was felt for miles around. At Sandusky people are reported to have been thrown from their beds. People here were awakened and turned out to see what was the matter. Every window in Gypsum was broken and telephone and telegraph wires were knocked down.

TRYING TO GET JURY

Special Venire Drawn for Trial of Slayer of J. D. S. Neeley.

Independence, Kan., March 22.—Attorneys in the trial of A. A. Truskett, charged with killing J. D. S. Neeley, the Lima, Ohio, oil man, today began the examination of a special venire ordered drawn by the court after the original panel had been exhausted without securing a jury.

Rumors were circulated today that Truskett's attorneys may ask a change of venue, alleging it is impossible to secure an unprejudiced jury in this county, where both the principals in the murder are well known.

NOT YET TAKEN UNDER WARRANT

Evansville Bank Book- keeper Has Shortage of $35,000 or More.

OFFICERS WATCH HIM

Evansville, Ind., March 22.—John Blauth, 32 years old, under surveillance a this home in this city, since last Thursday in connection with an alleged shortage of $35,000 or more at the Evansville Trust and Savings company, for which he was individual bookkeeper, had not been arrested this forenoon, and bank officials said they were waiting until they made a complete canvass of the books before acting.

President Decker, of the bank, first admitted a shortage of $1,000 in the cash balances occurring some time last Thursday, while state bank examiners were busy in the institution, but later oral statements by Secretary Brentano, of the trust company, are that the shortage is in the neighborhood of $35,000.

Blauth has retained an attorney and is prepared to give bond when he is arrested. He makes his appearance in public in company with a private detective employed by the bank. He declares that he is not short and that his books were in a muddled condition when he received them.

USED COUNTY FUNDS

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—The indictment against Oliver P. Ensley, former treasurer of this (Marion) county, charging him with the embezzlement of $19,000 of the county funds, was quashed today by Special Judge Ovid B. Jameson, sitting in the criminal court. Ensley was tried on the charge last year but the jury disagreed, ten being for conviction and two for acquittal.

The indictment was quashed on the ground that no demand for the money had been made on Ensley. Prosecutor Baker said, after the decision that the state would take an appeal from the ruling of the special judge.

SMALL TOWNS BELEAGUERED

Mexican Insurrectos Pen Up the People and Cut Off Food Supply.

MUCH SUFFERING IS IN PROSPECT

Army at San Antonio Eager for News of Raiding on American Side.

El Paso, Texas, March 22.—News from the interior of the war zone today states that Mexican insurrectos have surrounded many small towns and have notified the inhabitants that they will allow no provisions to reach them from the surrounding country.

The insurrectos have determined that the supply of provisions shall remain in their hands and it is feared that non-combatants will be subject to still greater hardships by the blockade.

Hundreds of refugees are reported to be fleeing toward the borders, many of them attempting to make the journey on foot.

Col. Samuel Garcia Cuellar, of President Diaz's military staff, is still incapacitated by his wound at Casas Grandes. Col. Rabago is thought to be marching to Casas Grandes to relieve him as it is known that President Diaz has sent a personal courier with instructions that Col. Cuellar be escorted to some point where he may receive adequate medical attention.

GO TO GUARD THE BORDER.

El Paso, Tex., March 22.—A special train today took a troop of cavalry from El Paso to Marathon, whence it will be sent to the Chisos quicksilver mines, where raiders from Mexico are reported as pillaging.

A company of infantry also has been sent from here to Langtry, not far from Marathon and Alpine, to do border duty on the report that the Pecos "high bridge" on the Southern Pacific was to be blown up.

AWAITING DETAILS OF RAID.

San Antonio, Texas, March 22.—Additional details of the situation at Chiholista and at Alpine, where Mexican marauders, supposedly insurrectos, crossed the Rio Grande river and drove American cattle across the border, were eagerly awaited at the maneuver camp today. A heavy rain fell last night, again turning the camp into a puddle of mud.

General Smith, undeterred by the weather and the slush under foot, started on the practice march with his brigade at 8 o'clock this morning. There was some discussion about calling off the test, but the general accepted the rain as merely an incident of actual conditions and declined to delay his departure until more propitious weather arrived.

Much of the way to the camp, thirteen miles from here in the direction of Leon Springs, is over the Fredericksburg road, which is macadamized. The column of 2,238 men and 118 officers formed in the camp mud, however, and accumulated more before reaching the pavement.

HE SENDS SYMPATHY

New York, March 22.—Dr. Booker T. Washington, the negro educator, whose alleged assailant of last Sunday night, Albert Ulrich, was held yesterday for trial on an assault charge, was still at the hotel Manhattan today recovering rapidly from the effects of the injuries he sustained. Dr. Washington was gratified today to receive a letter from President Taft in the president's handwriting, in which Mr. Taft expressed his sympathy for and confidence in Dr. Washington. The letter, as given out by Dr. Washington, reads:

"I am greatly distressed at your misfortune and I hasten to write you of my sympathy. My hope that you will soon recover from the wounds inflicted by insane suspicion or viciousness and of my confidence in you, in your integrity and morality of character and in your highest usefulness to your race and to all the people of this country."

"It would be a nation's loss if this untoward incident in any way impaired your great power for good in the solution of one of the most difficult problems before us."

"I want you to know that your friends are standing by you in every trial and that I am proud to subscribe myself as one."

NEW BOARD IS CHOSEN

Permanent Directors for Reorganized Traction System.

JONES REMAINS AS PRESIDENT

Hugh J. Pritchard and W. A. Tucker, New York, for New Interests.

Permanent directors for the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, which under a reorganization recently took over the properties of the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company, were chosen today in this city when the temporary directors resigned in accordance with the general plan, and the vacancies were filled by the selection of representatives of the real financial interests behind the big company.

J. Levering Jones, of Philadelphia, is a member of the new board and was also elected president of the new company as he was of the old. Other directors chosen were Henry C. Paul and James M. Barrett, of Fort Wayne; Randall Morgan and John J. Collier, of Philadelphia; Hugh J. McGowan, of Indianapolis; and Hugh J. Pritchard and William A. Tucker, of New York, the latter two representing the new financial interests which have become allied with the Fort Wayne property in the reorganization. Henry Rainey, of Philadelphia, was elected secretary of the company, but is not a member of the board of directors.

Mr. Paul Vice President.

Henry C. Paul is elected vice president and treasurer. In the first named position he succeeds Charles Murdock, of Lafayette. Three members of the temporary board—Harry E. Vordermark, Arthur H. Mohr and Frederick H. Schmidt—were continued in their places temporarily. Within a short time permanent selections will be made for these three places and they also will be filled by representatives of financial holdings in the road. One of the places is regarded as certain to go to Charles Murdock.

None of the eastern men were in attendance at the meeting held at the general offices of the company in this city today, as the entire temporary board was located in Fort Wayne, and it was legally empowered to fill vacancies occasioned by resignation. Within a short time President Jones and other eastern directors are expected in the city to take up matters connected with the future policy of the company.

ROVER'S GHOST IS WALKING.

Dog Killed By Auto Last June— Owner Sues for Damages.

Poor old Rover never knew what trouble and litigation he would cause later when he failed to get out of the way of Henry McClaren's auto one day last June. The death of the canine pet has been ranking in the mind of the owner, Michael Flaugh, a dayman of Washington township, ever since it happened and yesterday he brought suit against McClaren to recover damages.

Flaugh alleges that McClaren willfully swerved his auto to one side of the road in order to kill the harmless pet and several witnesses have testified that it was a case of malicious dog-slaughter. The plaintiff's side of the story has been heard and the case has been continued until Thursday at 2 o'clock. McClaren is a well known barber of this city.

QUIET BUT TENSE IN MINE STRIKE

No Outbreak Has Occurred in Mine Trouble at Benld, Ill.

TROOPS WILL LEAVE

Gillespie, Ill., March 22.—Despite the protection of the state militia, mines Nos. 1 and 2 of the Superior Coal company, between Gillespie and Benld, did not resume operations today. The miners of the local union at a secret meeting last night voted not to return to work until the troops have been recalled.

Two companies left Camp Benld this morning for each of the mines. Guns were placed on the roads leading to the mines to quell any disturbance, but no workmen appeared, though the paths to the mine were lined with watchers, and the troops soon returned to camp.

Benld was patrolled last night by militiamen, deputy sheriffs and policemen.

The saloons are still closed and there is no indication of an outbreak. Col. E. J. Lang, in command of the detachments, said the militia may move today. He declared that he did not see any use of keeping the soldiers here. Col. Lang told the sheriff the militia would not be needed if additional deputies were sworn in. The merchants of Benld have refused to sell their goods to the state guards.

At the conclusion of a telephone conversation with Adjutant General Frank Dickson, Col. Lang announced the soldiers would not be withdrawn today.

Col. Lang proposed before leaving the scene to see that Sheriff Etter has a large enough force of organized deputies to cope with any emergency.

NINE MEN KILLED IN MINE SHAFT

Immense Volume of Slate Falls Upon Them and Crushes Them.

PENNSYLVANIA SCENE

Pittsburg, Pa., March 22.—Nine men were instantly killed today in the Hazel mine of the Pittsburg and Buffalo Coal company at East Cannonsburg, Pa. They were being taken to their rooms in a remote part of the mine when a mass of loose slate in the roof fell, filling one car in which there were ten men. The motor was stopped and other workmen on the train hastened to the assistance of the unfortunate. The death dealing slate was quickly cleared away and the bodies recovered. All were foreigners except David Donier, an American. Three of them were married and the bodies were removed to their homes. The uninjured foreigner was riding at the end of the car and practically escaped unhurt.

DEGENERATE WAS VERY BOLD.

Assaulted Two Women Before He Was Chased Away by Borman.

Before he was chased by Gus Borman on Monday night, the same fellow who assaulted Mrs. Michael Burns had already assaulted two women who were walking together on Calhoun street near Williams. The police have been instructed to keep a sharp lookout for him.

Information reached The Sentinel office that Mrs. James Burns was the victim of an assault, but the informant was mistaken. It was Mrs. O'Brien who was attacked at Clinton street and Masterson avenue.

A HAT OF RIBBON ROSES.

FROM BLOOMINGDALE BROS.

There is something about ribbon flowers that makes them seem more dainty and appropriate for children's wear than the bolder artificial flowers. This charming hat of white point d'esprit shirred over wires is bound with pink satin ribbon, and the tiny ribbon roses are also pink; around the crown is a frilling of black net and narrow white lace. The shape is a simple, graceful one, which makes a pretty frame for the young girl's hair and face.

Bailhe Trio to Give Recitals.

Lovers of music and people who especially desire to become more familiar than they are with chamber music, will learn with pleasure of the intended recitals which the Bailhe trio plans to give in this city soon. In the trio are R. Maurinus Paulsen, violinist; Leroy Schwab, cellist, and George Bailhe, pianist. The trio has given one recital under the auspices of the Morning Musical society and it was heard with much enjoyment by a large audience. Chamber music, the highest form of concerted musical composition for instruments, is not often heard in this city. A good listener who has any admiration for music at all, enjoys this form of music if well played, no matter how little he may know about music theoretically and technically. The Bailhe trio is a well balanced company of players and no one part suffers for want of intelligence or musical insight in rendition. Recently the Bailhe trio played in Marion where great praise was given the musicians for their fine rendition of the Tschalkowsky trio, op. 50. It is expected the trio will play the same composition here.

Will Give Oratorios.

Special musical compositions, in particular the Passion Service by Alfred Gault, on next Sunday, will be given at the First Presbyterian church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Howard Van Swearingen will be the soloist and he will assist the church quartet, Miss Agnes Stemon, soprano; Miss Margaret Spencer, alto; Ralph Yarnelle, tenor, and D. Ferd Urbahn, bass, and John B. Archer director and organist.

Prize-Winning Barley Pudding

A committee of three cooking experts acting as judges in the "prize pudding contest" held by the Irving Park Mothers' club, of Chicago, awarded first prize for a recipe for a Scotch barley pudding, it having the "four essentials"—newest, simplest, least expensive and most delicious. The recipe was as follows: Put a half teaspoonful of salt in 1½ pints of boiling water, then stir in slowly 2-3 cup of Cream of Barley; boil 10 minutes, take from the fire and add 2 beaten eggs, 2 cups of milk, 2 tablespoonfuls of sugar, ½ cupful of seed-corn raisins, and flavor to suit. Stir well and bake same as custard. Serve plain or with cream and sugar. This costs about 11 cents and serves 10 people.

Barley in any form is regarded as a most excellent food. It is rich in gluten and is soothing to inflamed and weakened stomachs. Many so-called nervous troubles are caused by deranged digestion, and it is a noteworthy fact that barley eaters seldom are afflicted with "nerves." Cream of Barley is barley in its purest and best form and is a satisfactory and sustaining breakfast dish. It is sold in 15-cent packages by all first class grocers.

First Rehearsal Tonight.

FROCKS FOR CHILDREN.

Little children of the rich are to appear uncommonly like little sailor folk, it would seem. An absolute craze for nautical frocks has swept in for the coming summer, and girls, as well as boys, will wear regulation blouses.

Such frocks at least have the merit of comfort and sense, for they leave young limbs free to run and jump, and, the dresses being made of stout materials, havoc will not follow rough usage.

The skirts of these uniforms are quite plain, and invariably white. The blouse comes half way to the knees, and does not turn under. It is slightly confined by the inevitable wide leather belt, black on these suits being considered better than a color.

A wide sailor collar is of blue, a tiny red anchor being embroidered in each corner. The front dicky is also of blue, having a large red anchor directly in the middle. Around each sleeve, a little way below the shoulders, is a tiny red band, half an inch wide, without which no uniform would be complete.

A soft red tie, knotted sailor fashion, completes the dress.

Intended chiefly for play or other hard wear, the suits are as a rule made of material as stout as Jean. A heavy quality of linen is sometimes employed, but the former fabric is considered more fit keeping.

Some of the thin afternoon frocks for little people are simply a series of ruffles, until a child so gowned would seem rather like a human pen wiper. The model is not suited to a child over eight years of age.

A curious "hobble" effect is shown in one expensive French frock for a very little girl. The dress hangs straight from the shoulders, long lines of lace bands being introduced. Just at the knees is a circular band of lace, forming a regular hobble. The dress material is nainsook.

BROWNING A GREAT TALKER.

Lady St. Heller Couldn't Read Him, But That Made No Difference.

(From Lady St. Heller's "Memories.")

If Lord Houghton talked more than most people he certainly was eclipsed by Mr. Browning, who spoke louder and with greater persistence than anyone I have ever come across in my life. Although I had known him as a girl, we did not renew our acquaintance until after my marriage, when I saw a great deal of him, as he constantly came to our house. He dined with us often, and used to come and see me generally every Sunday afternoon. He was very agreeable and kind, and although I was never one of his devoted followers and often told him I had never been able to read a line of his poetry, he still continued his friendship with me. I think most people feared rather than loved him—certainly men did; but women adore poets and they worshipped Mr. Browning.

HEALTH PAINTS ROSY LIPS.

Bitting the lips to bring color will only make them more lifeless and thinner in effect, by drying the skin. One can always recognize persons who have this habit, by no means uncommon, for their lips have dried, and brownish looking spots, than which nothing is homelier.

Grease is the remedy. It should also be borne in mind that when they are not fresh and smooth a low condition of the system, and thin blood are usually indicated. Phosphates in various forms are frequently prescribed at such times, but this must be done by a physician.

For local application grease in its heaviest form should be employed, it being put on through the day, as well as at night. There will be no difficulty in using it at the former time, for any superfluous amount can be wiped off, so that it will be invisible, yet some will be left to nourish the tissues.

Cold creams are rarely sufficiently penetrating to be very beautiful for dry lips. Vaseline has excellent properties for the purpose, that containing a small percentage of carbolic acid being specially suited. Tincture of benzoin, good when there is soreness of the lips, is not desirable when they are merely dry. If both conditions prevail, gum benzoin may be rubbed over the skin, anointing it then with plain vaseline, or a cold cream, if desired.

This should be renewed constantly, taking care never to go into the open air without first so protecting the lips. MARGARET MIXTER.

HUNGER A LOST FEELING.

Civilized human beings do most of their eating through habit, and it is a bad habit. Savages, with whom the wherewithal to eat comes only as the result of direct effort, do it better and manage to get along without physicians. We are cursed by having our victuals too close at hand.

"A prolific cause of chronic indigestion," says the Hygiene Gazette, "is eating from habit, and simply because it is meal time and others are eating." To eat when not hungry is to eat without relish, and food taken without relish is worse than wasted.

The aborigine who had to stalk and kill his deer before breakfast suffered none of the modern disorders of the stomach. No doubt he went hungry many a time, but to be hungry is far better than to be "food drunk," a term invented by Edison, and fitly to be applied to most of us most of the time.

That good old feeling called hunger is in a fair way to fade into mere tradition. The average man perhaps can not say that he has really felt that feeling once in a dozen years.

To be sure, when a meal is delayed beyond the customary time, habit protests in an uneasy feeling which is erroneously supposed to be hunger. But the genuine sharp, knowing demand of the system for food most of us left behind with out childhood.

THE FOUR BRAVE FAIRIES.

One night Fairy Queen was giving a party, a lovely, lovely party. All at once there was a terrible noise. Three times again the same noise came, until at last Fairy Queen said it must be stopped and she called on four of her brave fairykins to stop it. Pretty soon the faeries came to a great flat plain, where they could see a long way. And there they saw indeed what made the noise—the two great Glants Limberlegger and Timberscooky fighting. The way they fought was mostly by throwing mountains at each other—so now you know what made the noise.

So did the Fairies—but how to stop it they didn't know. So they crept back into the woods to make a plan. After much thinking they hit upon a plan.

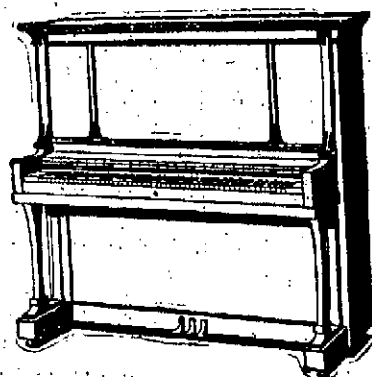

"We will attack them from all sides at once," said one, "each one shouting and banging his sword on his shield and making all the noise he can. The giants will think the noise is coming against them and they will be frightened and run away."

After dodging a number of flying mountains the brave fairykins began the attack. Just at this moment Lumberlegger threw a very large mountain which struck Timberscooky on the nose and knocked him down. This seemed such a good joke to the two of them—for they were good natured old chaps and only fought because there wasn't anything else to do that morning—such a good joke that they both burst out laughing. After which off they went arm in arm, and that was the end of them. The four brave fairykins fully believed that they had driven the enemy away—which is no more than many little people do when big things happen. So back they marched in triumph and reported the great victory to Fairy Queen. As the noise had certainly stopped, Fairy Queen in her turn was much delighted, and as she had promised gave them all the Grand Cross of the Order of Thistle-down.

BANK FILES ITS ANSWER.
First National Demurs to Claim of Chicago Concern.

The First National bank, of this city, has filed in the federal court at Indianapolis, its answer to the suit of the Library Bureau, of Chicago, denying all of the allegations in the complaint. The action is the outcome of differences over the equipment of the bank's quarters in the Shaw building. The plaintiff alleges that the bank is indebted to the amount of about $7,000 for fixtures and furnishings. The bank avers that the entire amount was paid previous to the filing of the suit. As a counter claim the defendant says that the Library Bureau agreed to have the work completed at a stipulated time and that the final work was not done until 166 days later, creating a forfeit of $4,150. It is asserted also by the defendant that the work was not done according to the specifications and that a large sum is due the bank on that account.

SIDEWALK PLANS WILL BE RUSHED
Lighting System is to Be Hurried Along at Same Time.

THE CITY HALL NOTES

Plans for cement sidewalks on both sides of Calhoun street from Superior street to the point at which the tunnel under the Pennsylvania and Wabash tracks starts, have been ordered by the board of public works at the solicitation of the property owners and they will be ready for adoption at the meeting of the board tomorrow night.
There was a meeting at the city hall this morning between the board and C. H. Worden, Frank J. Rahe, Louis Fox, Herman Michael and Louis S. C. Schroeder, at which a request was made to rush the matter of ornamental lighting along as much as possible and the advertising for bids will be inserted just as soon as it can be done.
Property owners have expressed a desire for tungsten lamps and that system will in all probability be used and there will be live lights on each post if the expressed preference of the owners is given proper weight.
The board will be asked to exercise the same caution in putting down sidewalks that was used in paving the street, so that the best sidewalks obtainable will be laid and the thoroughfare will not have to be torn up again for a long time. These sidewalks were contemplated at the same time that the pavement was put down, but it was decided to wait until the question of ornamental lighting had been disposed of.

Will Aid the Board.

Members of the city council's special track elevation committee and the committee on contracts and franchises decided at a meeting with the board of public works to get the final propositions submitted by the city to the Pennsylvania company and by the company to the city and see if the vexed question of vacating Chicago street, Harrison, Webster and McClelland can finally be disposed of.
The whole matter was discussed at great length in the course of which all of the correspondence was gone over and the two committees were given the exact status of the proposition. Another meeting will be held and in the meantime the last letters in which the position of the city and that of the railroad company were set out will be submitted.

Dr. Swerigen, of the city council, wanted to waive the general law so that the work of elevation can be completed. This is the hitch, but the other members would not give their consent.

If the city would agree to proceed in the opening of New Webster street under the present law with a division of cost on the basis of 75 per cent for the company and 25 for the city the trouble would be over, but this would hamper future administrations and it is desired to avoid this.
It was explained that the city is not proceeding under or being influenced by promises of a new station. Mr. Lennon explained that the company received $1,500 for ground for additional width at Calhoun street and $500 at Broadway and also paid the additional superstructural work running the amount up to more than $4,000.

Members of the council promised to do all in their power to bring about a settlement in the very near future and said that the new trackage privileges and other things asked by the company can be taken up in the final adjustment.
Will Hold the Options.
Options secured by Councilman John Bauer through the Lenhart and Orth real estate agency on two pieces of property adjoining the city hall on the east will be held for a while as they have sixty days to run and in the meantime the question of erecting a new police station will be taken up. The price agreed upon is $20,000, $11,000 for the first lot east and $9,000 for the second. The two lots represent a frontage of 59 1/2 feet on Berry street and a depth of 150 feet.

EXCITEMENT IN COURT.

Woman Becomes Hysterical in Justice Huser's Court.

Justice Huser's court was the scene of wild disorder this morning when one of the witnesses became hysterical and caused the case on the docket to be dismissed.
The case being heard was a replevin suit, Hazel McCamrack versus her divorced husband, William Ward. Miss McCamrack was trying to recover her household goods which she claimed Ward had taken. The judge had heard all of the plaintiff's evidence when he called on Mrs. Ward, the mother of the defendant. The elderly lady took the stand and after being questioned by the attorneys began to show signs of nervousness. Suddenly she lost her self-control and began screaming at the top of her voice. The case was at once dismissed and it took the combined efforts of the members of the court to quiet the temporarily demented woman.

HAD RIGHT FOOT AMPUTATED.

Peter Grestley, seventy-two years old and living at Hoagland, lost his right foot as the result of an injury sustained by being thrown from a wagon on Monday afternoon. In the fall the ankle was badly dislocated, both bones were fractured and one of them was splintered and the jagged ends protruded through the flesh. He rallied from the operation and is in a fair way to recover. His horse started as he was climbing into the wagon and he was thrown to the ground. The amputation was performed by Drs. J. L. and Orville Smith.

SENATOR OWEN IS KEPT FROM HOUSE
Illinois Legislators Do Not Want Him to Speak in the Chamber.

ASSAULT IS FEARED

Springfield, Ill., March 22.—United States Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, was prevented from speaking on initiative and referendum in the hall of representatives at the state house this afternoon as it had been announced he would do.
Lee O'Neill Browne's friends and a number of republicans declared today they would not countenance the appearance of Senator Owen, which they said would be considered a personal affront. Members of this faction of former followers held heated and unbecoming gatherings today. Minority Leader Alschuler said that, to avoid trouble, Senator Owen should speak in some other place than in the hall of representatives. "After what Senator Owen said in Washington about certain members of the house whom he mentioned individually," said Mr. Alschuler, "I cannot understand how he expects courteous treatment here. It will simply be impossible to hold back a large number of the members if the Oklahoma senator persists in his announced intention of speaking in the hall of representatives this afternoon."
Expressions of bad feeling against Senator Owen became more open and reckless as the day wore on. House leaders became visibly concerned in their efforts to stop or head off the wave of violent feeling which has been growing since last night. It was felt possible that a serious clash might occur this afternoon and that Senator Owen might be subjected to open insult if not to a personal attack.
Chairman Holaday, of the house judiciary committee, changed the place of holding the public referendum hearing from the hall of representatives to the old supreme court chamber, following the expression of antipathy to Senator Owen by certain members of the house.

STATE WOULD NOT ALLOW IT.

Annie Nye Got Her Clothes Back and Wanted to Drop Case.

Annie Nye filed an affidavit against Robert Williams charging him with stealing a lot of her clothing and when he made restitution she wanted to drop the case. Deputy Prosecutor Harry Higman would not allow this so he asked that the man be held until tomorrow and in the meantime the woman will have a subpoena served on her.
Edward Moran, charged with malicious trespass for banging a window in the Frederick restaurant, asked a continuance until tomorrow morning and it was granted.
Elmer Grande, charged with drunkenness, was held until tomorrow and William Boyer was fined $5 and costs for an assault upon Edward Walter.

SAYS IT IS BIG HELP.

Letter Carriers Urging Erection of Mail Boxes.

Letter carriers in Fort Wayne are urging citizens to erect at their homes delivery boxes in which mail can be placed, in accordance with recent recommendations from Washington. They declare the boxes are a great help in saving time of the carrier, who does not have to wait until the householder answers the bell before mail can be delivered. It also obviates the necessity for coming to the door to receive mail at a time that may be inopportune.
Postal officials here estimate that about 25 per cent of Fort Wayne homes are already provided with these boxes. On one route in Bloomington almost every householder has erected a box.

WILL START FOR SAN ANTONIO.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—Fifty-five members of the 10th regiment will leave Fort Benjamin Harrison tomorrow to join their command at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Lieut. White will be in command. Twenty-four of the men were left behind as a detail to guard the fort and the remaining 30 were either on furlough or sick in the hospital and since have recovered.

Fort Wayne Men Form Blackford Paper Mills.

Under a reorganization plan which will take over the Wayne Paper mills at Hartford City and provide additional capital for the extension of the business, the Blackford Paper mills have just been incorporated with a capital stock of $255,000. Among the incorporators are Henry C. Paul, Henry J. Miller, Louis Fox, Max B. Fisher and others.

CITY BREVITIES.

Miss Alma Bruns, of Wallace street, is very sick and little hope is entertained for her recovery.

PRESIDENT AND UCHIDI CONFER
Taft Assures Ambassador from Japan That War is Impossible.

BRANDS WILD TALES

Washington, March 22.—President Taft today invited Baron Uchida, the Japanese ambassador, to a conference at the white house this afternoon. The president's object in doing this is to personally set at rest the various irresponsible stories that have been published to the effect that the army maneuvers in Texas and California were in a vague way directed toward Japan.
Responding to the summons from President Taft, Baron Uchida, the Japanese ambassador, called at the white house this afternoon. Mr. Taft told the ambassador that there was absolutely no warrant or excuse for stories that have been printed to the effect that the United States in sending troops to the Mexican border had done so in expectation of a treacherous move by Japan. The president said the reports were scarcely worth denying, but he desired to set them at rest for all time. The president asked Baron Uchida to communicate these views directly to the emperor of Japan.
President Taft has been greatly annoyed by the persistent reports that Japan had negotiated a secret agreement with Mexico for a coaling station on the Pacific coast and that the United States was menacing Mexico as a protest.
While confident that the Japanese ambassador needed no assurance either private or official as to the purpose of this government, President Taft today conveyed the idea of inviting Baron Uchida to the white house for a conference so as to give the greatest publicity possible to a denial which the president hopes will carry conviction to the American people.

Two Divorce Suits Filed.

Mildred Besancon wants a divorce from Henry Besancon and charges that he has been unfaithful to his marriage vows. Cora Hedges is named as co-respondent. They were married Oct. 10, 1906, and separated a few days ago. Howard Hawthorn represents her.
Mabel R. Burns asks that she be divorced from Henry W. Burns on the ground that he spends his money for drink and for the entertainment of other women. They were married June 23, 1907. C. A. Hayes filed the suit.

Damages for Injuries.

Alleging that she fell upon the sidewalk at the northwest corner of Berry and Union streets because the ice had not been removed, Rachel M. Farrell asks $1,000 damages of Henry R. and C. A. Freeman. She says the injuries were sustained Jan. 2, 1910, and consisted of four fractured ribs, a broken collar bone and other minor hurts. H. W. Kerr is her attorney.
At the same time James A. Johnson filed a suit against the Aubrey Coal company for $3,000. He says that he was bitten by a horse belonging to the company and severely injured.

Will is Probated.

The last will of Mrs. Gettys Noze was filed for probate and $100 is left to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Walter, and the remainder of the estate to her husband. After his death the property goes to her nephew, John Walter.

LIVE WITHOUT PAYING BILLS.

Some of the young men most business like in not paying their debts find that summer is the best time for their purpose in New York. They get references and apply to the large real estate offices, offering to act as caretakers in fine houses, the owners of which may be in the country. Real estate men and the regular occupants of many fine residences are only too glad to have a stalwart young man with good references take up his quarters in a house and so guard it, especially at night, from the ubiquitous burglar on the search for just such deserted and plunderable places.

The young men who live well, and they think honestly, without paying for anything, exact no fee for his service, but act as watchman for free sleeping quarters. Comfortably established, they bring themselves to the attention of tradesmen and with a naughty and condescending air order clothes, shoes, shirts, hats, whatever they may need—even meals from caterers—in their own names, to the fashionable address and the looking mansions where they dwell temporarily.—From "The City of Dreadful Debt" by Roy L. McCordell, in the April Hampton's.

MRS. SCHENK GIVES BOND.

Chicago, Ill., March 22.—Mrs. Theresa Schenk, who shot and killed her husband last Saturday morning at their home in Park Ridge, a suburb of Chicago, was released from custody on bonds of $10,000 today. Her story of the shooting is that after a night of revelry she was awakened in the early morning by her husband's voice calling her, and that, seeing a man's form in the house she shot at it, killing her husband.

WOMEN AND PROHIBITION.

The women of Denver have been maligned all over the United States for voting against prohibition. In fact it was one of the bravest things they ever did. There are just as many temperance women in Denver as in any other city, but in this election they believed that they could not afford to support the temperance question at the expense of the graver issues.
They reasoned that until the voters of Denver were given the power to recall any city official who should fail to do his duty, they could never keep Denver dry, even if an overwhelming majority voted by dry. Unless they got rid of the corrupt political and business interests beginning with the water interests, they could never get rid of the liquor interest, whether open saloons or speakeasies supplied the liquor. They threw their strength to the essential measures which otherwise almost certainly would have been lost.—Rheta Childe Dorr, in the April Hampton's.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free. Sold by Druggists. J. C. HENRY & CO., Toledo, O. NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

OPERATOR TO TURN STATE'S EVIDENCE

To Save Himself Leonard Cochaine Will Expose His Partners in the Theft.

Huntington, Ind., March 22.—That Leonard Cochaine, now under bond and awaiting trial on a charge of grand larceny, will turn state's evidence and implicate a number of Andrews residents, both men and women, is the sensational rumor that has caused much talk in Dallas township in the last few days. The hearing is set for today. Last night excitement was at its height over the possible developments of the next few hours.

Cochaine, it is said, will turn state's evidence to escape the conviction that now appears unavoidable through his own partial confession. That mysterious document, over which attorneys for the Wabash for Cochaine and for the state had a heated wrangle last week, is said to contain the complete confession of the young man who is charged with stealing from the Wabash.

In the face of this evidence, and other statements Cochaine is alleged to have made, prior to and subsequent to his arrest, the state hopes to obtain conviction with little difficulty.

According to the word that has been passed around from Andrews, the information coming from responsible parties, Cochaine will reveal the operations of a gang of thieves that has been in existence many months. That three or four women will face the music, together with men who are in the ring, is the principal subject of conversation.

It has also been stated that Cochaine's attorney, George Young, is making strenuous efforts to get his hands off the case. Young is an Andrews boy. Those familiar with inner circumstances declare that he, foreseeing the startling developments, is loathe to be a party to the implication of certain people who may be mentioned by Cochaine.

SPECTACULAR CLOSE.

Billy Sunday Will Finish Dry Campaign at Goshen.

Goshen, Ind., March 22.—The Goshen dries have determined upon a spectacular close for the city local option campaign and with this object in view, on next Monday night will bring Rev. William A. Sunday, better known as Billy Sunday, to the city for a temperance address.

Although in the limelight for a long time, next Monday night will mark Mr. Sunday's first Goshen appearance. He is in great demand for revivals.

It is understood that the admission to the Jefferson theater will be confined to men. Women and children will be excluded. The persons responsible for Mr. Sunday's Goshen engagement would like very much to give the entire public an opportunity to hear him, but upon this occasion it becomes necessary to show a preference for voters. Should the seating capacity of the Jefferson not be exhausted by men who desire to attend, the surplus space will be given over to women and others who are anxious to hear Sunday.

SEVERE WITH DRUNKARDS.

Commenting upon the announcement of an Indianapolis judge that he will hereafter deal with severity in disposing of the most numerous class of cases that come before city courts, the Indianapolis Star says:

Altogether commendable is Judge Taylor's announcement that his court will show no mercy hereafter to men who are brought before him for drunkenness. There has been entirely too much talk of late about the drunkard being the helpless victim of the saloon. No saloon will harm him if he goes his way about his business; but if he stays in it he should be made to feel the consequences of his acts. Much discretion has to be employed in such cases so as to avoid merely punishing the offender's family, through the loss of his earnings. No doubt the ideal society of the future will devise some way in which men of this stripe may be put to work under surveillance and their earnings turned over to their families. There will be less drunkenness when the offender realizes that he is the object of scorn and punishment instead of pity and pathetic oratory.

There is no need to wait for the "ideal society of the future" to establish provision for dealing rationally with the drunkard and the wife beater and the man who by reason of acquired habits or natural meanness will not support his family. The drunkard is the most numerous of these offenders and he constitutes by far the largest part of the burden entailed upon society for the maintenance of courts and the support of places of confinement. An institution where these offenders can be made to earn their living at hard work will have a vastly greater correctional influence than merely jail or workhouse. Society need not in all respects be ideal to manage this problem in a more rational and practical and less expensive way than it now employs.

WAR SCARE IS ABATED.

The war scare it appears was that and nothing more. There is to be no invasion of Mexico unless congress becomes belligerent and orders it and there is to be no conflict of any sort. The army is merely doing some shadow boxing to get itself in trim and incidentally is patrolling the Mexican border to enforce the neutrality laws, which have not been treated with great respect since the revolution in Mexico began. President Taft has taken hold of the situation and to the end that there may be no needless public alarm on either side the border and no doubt also with a view to preventing any stock gambling uses of the military situation, he has adopted a policy of complete publicity with respect to the movements and maneuvers of the army. Whatever orders are henceforth decided upon for the military now on the border will be issued to the public first.

A little of this open-faced policy a couple of weeks ago would have spared a lot of anxiety and a deal of sensationalism that have distressed and excited both countries. However, even sham battles have to be conducted with some respect for secrecy of strategic purpose and it does not seem to have dawned upon the great men in Washington that the people of the United States and Mexico, viewing the unexpected and hurried massing of troops on the border, would at once jump to the most sensational and picturesque conclusions.

Mexico had requested a better effort on the part of this government to enforce the neutrality laws as the passage of contraband was constant and irritating and was the main source of the revolution's vitality. With this request there was such an overwhelming compliance as swept Mexico a bit off her feet and greatly astonished the people of this land. And that is all there is to it. At any rate, so say the Washington dispatches, which are always veracious beyond compare.

If it finally is settled that Mr. Boehne and not Mr. Cline is to be put on the rivers and harbors committee it will be a disappointment to the people of northern Indiana. Mr. Cline is so ardent a friend of the lake-to-lake waterway project that he should be on the committee for the good of that enterprise if for no other reason. Congressman Boehne is a man of many capacities that fit him for the place, but not in any respect more so than Mr. Cline, and this waterway project needs the Twelfth district member's zealous services, which of course will be vouchsafed none the less, though they could be better rendered as a member of the committee.

The spirit that prompted citizens of an Alabama town to subscribe to a fund to be tendered for defense of the man who assaulted Booker T. Washington in New York is that without which the race question in the United States would become a considerably shriveled interrogation point. With no means of knowing more of the affair than those who read newspapers have been given to know, these Alabama citizens exert themselves to do injury to a man who has done Alabama nothing but good. Dr. Washington is "a nigger," and that seems to embrace the sum of all causes against him in the minds of the Alabama contributors to the defense fund. It could not alter the spirit of such a prejudiced action if all that the assailant of Prof. Washington alleges and declares he suspected were proved true.

It is ascertained that of the ninety-two counties of Indiana fifty-three of them have limited saloons to the minimum under the Proctor regulation act. Also it is learned that forty-two of the cities of the state have fixed the license at the maximum. Those counties which have put the limit on saloons at one for each 1,080 of population at least are not going to be overrun with the business as would have been the case with repeal of the county option law and no establishment in the law to regulate the number.

Keep in mind the public playground and its splendid object, the City Beautiful and its noble propaganda, the lake-to-lake waterway project and its magnificent purpose. These public movements have vital connection with the future of the people of Fort Wayne. Push them along; they are the best things this town has hooked itself up with for a good while. It is only for want of general interest and widespread public spirit that these great enterprises lag at all.

All the orders to the army are to be published in the several hundred official organs of the administration and any other newspapers that desire. There is to be a suspension of secrecy on the border and the public will learn what the troops are going to do next at least two days before the troops do it. This is going to get exciting.

And now it appears the interests are financing the Mexican revolution and will get their pay when it succeeds. This report will have to be certified to before Mr. Debs will take back anything he has ever said about General Diaz and his government.

And, then, just fasten it in your mind that you do not need to wait for concert of everybody with your time and purpose to clean up. You can have a little City Cleaner movement all by yourself.

THOSE WHO DO WITHOUT.

(New York World.)

No matter what the cause of high prices may be, there is a sovereign, though painful remedy in every person's hands. It is to do without. That it has been applied generally and severely in this country of late admits of proof. Prices of food have been falling for several months and many explanations have been offered, mostly wrong. Big crops have had some influence, the indictment of the chief conspirators of the meat trust helped and legislation in many places against the cold-storage forestallers was useful, but a reason more powerful than all of these was the refusal or the inability of the people to pay.

With an abundance of food on every hand, prices rose until for many they became prohibitory. Those who set out to charge all that the traffic would bear met and passed the limit. When they found that this had been done and that possible legal complications might be encountered they spoke of overproduction, and prices fell.

In truth, there had been no overproduction. What had happened was a slackening of demand. Articles once common on the humblest American table went out of reach. People who could not afford them went without. The coarser and the cheaper foods were resorted to. The tanks of the poorly fed and the underfed penetrated further than ever into the great mass of the population. Extortion came face to face with self-denial, and self-denial triumphed.

This can be proved in other ways than by reference to our glutted warehouses and declining markets. It is not the poor only who are going without. For the first eight months of this fiscal year we sold abroad commodities of a value of $418,000,000 more than our purchases. This was three times the average for ten years before. When nations as well as individuals economize in this fashion there is a reason. Who have sold freely. We have bought sparingly. In New York state the savings banks report that last year withdrawals by depositors were $42,000,000 in excess of those of 1909, and the average increase of each account for the year was but $6.72, which was 50 per cent. less than the average increase in 1909. Here we have the record of savings depleted in spite of economy. Some people did not or could not go without.

Those who were largely instrumental in establishing famine prices in this country should remember the year 1910 as one in which they exhausted the purses of millions of their fellow-men. It should be memorable to everybody else as probably the first period of abounding prosperity when multitudes suffered deprivation, when ordinary incomes failed and when industry and thrift did not in all cases bring their accustomed reward.

Economy is no new thing to Americans. Generations of them have practiced it in many ways. They will cheerfully go without luxuries and pleasures which they cannot afford, but they will be heard from as they were last fall whenever in a year of more than average production of the necessities they are compelled to go without accustomed food.

SOME VERY VITAL STATISTICS.

(New York American.)

Nowadays everything is reduced to figures. Take heed of these statistics on that vital subject, "The Proposal of Marriage."

A German expert deduces that thirty-six per cent. of the suitors press the hands of their dear ones, twenty-four per cent. end their proposal with an embrace, four per cent. kiss the hair, two per cent. the hand, two per cent. fall on their knees, twenty per cent. swallow with nervousness before they speak, ten per cent. find themselves unable to utter a word, and two per cent. pop the question on one foot.

So far so good. Now read the figures on the behavior of the lucky or unlucky women who have to put up with this kind of thing: Sixty per cent. sink helpless into the lover's arms, twenty per cent. blush and hide their faces, one per cent. swoon, four per cent. are amazed, fourteen per cent. gaze into the suitor's eyes, and one per cent. dash madly off to tell a girl friend.

These figures have the earmarks of truth, and show that the modern man's forswearing the old custom of wearing out his knees, and that sixty per cent. of our modern girls are the kind who might say "This is so sudden" when wondering why it didn't happen sooner.

LOOKING FORWARD.

The new democratic house, it is reported, will undertake a lot of investigating when congress assembles, in the hope of disclosing to the public a prodigious waste and mismanagement order republican rule. Investigating is to be welcomed when there seems to be a reason to justify it and when it is conducted fairly and thoroughly.

But it is to be hoped that the next house will not develop its critical faculties out of proportion to its constructive possibilities. The deeds of the democratic majority are going to be much more important than any misdeed that may be proved on individuals of the other party.

This country looks forward, not back. What men are about to do is its chief concern, not what they have done. Ancient history doesn't excite people.

The democrats will find tariff action enormously more important than any disclosures of republican extravagance.

"Green" Cigars—
Like Green Apples

You cannot digest a green apple, nor can you "digest" under-cured cigars.

You can digest a cooked green apple—and smoke without harm, a well-cured cigar.

All growers partially cure their tobacco. But it comes to cigar makers still "half raw." Most makers make it at once into cigars.

It is these "half-raw" cigars that make "nerves."

I secure every bit of tobacco that goes into "El Symphonie" cigars, though it takes me from six weeks to two months to do it.

I leave in enough nicotine to get flavor yet take out enough to eliminate harm.

This requires great skill and a fine taste for tobacco. It's a feat that has taken me 31 years to accomplish.

WORLD HAS A STUDENT CLUB.

The Berlin University is the Latest to Join the Federation.

(New York Sun.)

Word has been received by the undergraduates of Cornell university interested in the world-wide student federation known as the Association of Cosmopolitan Clubs that a chapter of this association has been formed in the University of Berlin, the first of its kind to be started in the German empire, which is regarded as a non-cosmopolitan country.

The club was formed last month with twenty-four members, representing fourteen different countries. The club was organized by George W. Nasmyth, who holds three degrees from Cornell university and is now taking further graduate work in the University of Berlin. The German club is called the International Verelp and its constitution is largely a translation of those adopted by the Cornell and University of Wisconsin chapters.

Steps have been taken toward spreading the cosmopolitan idea in other universities of the country and toward extending its membership in Berlin. The American officers of the Berlin club are G. W. Nasmyth, president, and Prof. Hugo Munsterberg, honorary president. The first cosmopolitan club was founded at Cornell university about a dozen years ago. Chapters are now flourishing in most of the large American universities, and last year a union was effected between the American association and the Corda Frates, an association with a large membership among European students. Students from all of the civilized countries of the world are members of this association.

Women That Help Make Colorado Law

Hardest Workers in the State Legislature Are Its Four "Lady Members."

The personnel of the women members of the Colorado state legislature is an interesting study as presented by Rheta Childs Dorr in an article in the April Hampton's headed "The Women Did It in Colorado." Mrs. Dorr says:

"Of the present women members of the assembly, Mrs. Alma Lafferty is filling her second term. She is a member of the Denver Woman's club, is highly educated and manifestly intelligent. Her reputation as a public speaker is so high that she was selected to nominate for United States senator the democratic machine candidate, Robert E. Speer. She is a member of half a dozen important committees, including the committee on appropriations.

"Mrs. Louise U. Jones, also a stand-pat democrat, is a well known business woman of Denver. By her own efforts she has amassed a fortune, and outside her political activities has shown ability of no mean order.

"Mrs. Louise Kerwin, the third of the democratic women representatives, is more interested in certain social reforms than in general party politics. Her first bill related to important reforms in the practice of medicine in Colorado. Another measure provided for a legal definition of the head of a family. It made the wife or unmarried daughter such a head in case the principal financial support came from the women. Mrs. Kerwin and her colleagues have in preparation a most advanced and important measure regarding marriage, and making unlawful the union of diseased, epileptic, consumptive, imbecile or feeble minded persons.

"The fourth of the women representatives, Mrs. Agnes L. Riddle, is a republican, but no republican machine is responsible for her appearance on the floor of the assembly. The farmers of three counties—Adams, Arapahoe and Elbert—united in electing Mrs. Riddle. She is a farmer and the wife of a farmer. Some of these farmers and their wives call themselves democrats, but when Mrs. Riddle is to be voted for, whether the nomination is for secretary of the state grange, superintendent of a meeting, almost everybody in her part of the state gets out and votes for her.

"Agnes L. Riddle comes near being an institution. Born about forty years ago of plain German parents, Mrs. Riddle began early to earn her living as a nurse in Kansas City. Her district work brought her in contact with poverty and suffering, and gave her an inspiration to help others which has lasted all her life. When she married and moved to a ranch in Colorado, she by no means lost her desire to do community service. She organized rural churches and Sunday schools, became a member and an officer of the state agricultural college that the governor appointed her a member of the advisory board of the institution.

"Mrs. Riddle has no more than a common school education, but she knows, perhaps, better than the university trained experts in charge of the college, the needs of the farmers and their children. She has no children of her own, but she has adopted six, three of whom are grown.

"No man in the Colorado legislature does as much work as this plain country woman. She rises before dawn every morning, takes care of a large dairy, cooks and serves breakfast, and gets three children off to school. She drives several miles to the railroad station and reaches the assembly chamber before the speaker calls it to order. All day she sits at her desk, capably busy in behalf of her constituents. At the close of the session she attends several committee meetings, and gets back to the farm in time to see supper on the table. In the evening she darns stockings and talks politics with her husband and neighbors.

AUTO PATROL TO BE FINISHED UP

Will Go Into Service Tonight or Tomorrow at the Latest.

THE CITY RECEIVES IT

When the connections for the electric light have been made and a rotary gong placed on the new auto patrol it will be placed in service and at the Auburn garage, where the new vehicle has been stored for the present, it is reported that it will be finished tonight or tomorrow morning.

Mayor Grice, Members Henderson and Johnson, of the board of public safety; President L. S. C. Schroeder, of the city council; City Controller W. S. Cutshall and a party of newspaper men were the guests yesterday of Fred Gaskins, representing the Auburn Automobile company, when they went to Auburn to ride home in the big new machine.

Mr. Gaskins was active in making the sale to the city and he said that the patrol is what is termed an advertising job. The city agreed to pay $2,600 for it and he says it was turned out of the shop at actual cost for the reason that the city is located near the Auburn factory and that when he gets hold of prospective purchasers he can show them Fort Wayne's new patrol.

It is the first wagon of the sort turned out by the Auburn factory and considerable time and effort has been expended in making it as perfect as possible. The machine is of 128-inch wheel base, equipped with a specially built chassis, forty horsepower motor of the latest design and capable of hauling nine passengers with ease. In tests conducted by the factory force the machine has done forty-two miles per hour with ease and it is believed that it will prove adequate to the needs of Fort Wayne for many years to come.

Before it left the factory the auto was photographed and the run consumed little over an hour with the wagon carrying eight or nine passengers. It ate up the hills on the way in and is capable of a speed of thirty-five miles an hour on the streets of Fort Wayne so that emergency calls can be answered in jig time.

A suggestion was made that the wagon be called "der Ach Louie," in honor of Mr. Schroeder, but he declined the honor in favor of the long established custom of christening new vehicles of the character with the name of the first prisoner who gets a ride in it. The machine is low and admirably adapted for accident runs and for use as an ambulance. On its arrival it was run up Calhoun street to show it to its new possessors.

TURNING THE TABLE.

Or Making the Boot Fit the Other Foot.

THE office boy meditatively pushed the call button.

A moment later, in response to the call, the president of the corporation entered and respectfully approached the office boy's desk.

"Did you wish to see me, Tommy?" asked the president timidly.

"Oh, yes, Mr. Monypenny. Take a seat. I'll be through with this novel in a few minutes. I want to talk to you."

The president sat down as directed. The office boy finished the alluring tale of how Black Black, the "chocolate detective," saved the heroine. Then he closed the book, shoved it into a pigeonhole of the desk and turned in his swivel chair to face his employer.

"Mr. Monypenny," he began, "what I have to say to you is important, and while it is not pleasant, I want you to know that I have nothing personal against you. As a matter of fact, I like you and I want to be your friend. Understand?"

"Yes, Tommy."

"But the situation is just this: This concern has not been doing as well as it ought. You know that, of course, as well as I do."

"Yes, I know."

"Well, then, you know that something must be done, and I suppose it might as well be done soon as late."

The president looked worried. "You're not going to get rid of me, are you, Tommy?" he inquired.

"No," replied the office boy, frowning a little on a pad before him. "No," he repeated slowly. "I hardly think that will be necessary; but, as I said before, something must be done. Now, the principal expenses of this concern may be grouped roughly under three heads—raw material, labor and dividends. That's right, isn't it?"

"I think that's about right."

"Well, of course, the charges for raw material cannot be reduced. That's out of the question. We've got to have the stuff, and that's all there is to it. The same is true of labor. You can readily see that we are the most important part of the business. We can't do without the men who do the work, and of course you cannot expect us to accept any less for our work than we are getting."

"Of course not," admitted Mr. Monypenny.

"Then that leaves the dividends as the only department in which we can retrench, does it not?"

"It looks that way," agreed the president reluctantly.

"It certainly does," pursued the office boy, with an air of finality. "And, as I have said before, it grieves me sorely to be compelled to reach a conclusion which is so unfavorable to you. My kindly attitude toward capital is well known to every one."

"But, Tommy, it would be unfair to interfere with dividends at this time. You know I have just bought a big country place and an extra automobile, and it takes a lot of money to run them. Now, if you had only told me, say, a month ago."

"But I didn't know it," argued the office boy. "I had hoped it wouldn't be necessary. But, come! After all it isn't so bad. You ought to be glad I am not going to disperse with you altogether. I am only going to ask you to accept a 25 per cent reduction in dividends. Will you be willing to remain with us on that basis?"

"I suppose I'll have to."

"That's the manly way to talk. And you'll find it won't be so bad. There are lots of ways you can economize."

quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of cold water, one cupful of sifted pastry flour mixed with one scant teaspoonful of baking powder, and last of all, one tablespoonful of melted butter. Spread this mixture evenly over the papered pan and bake about twelve minutes in a moderate oven. Immediately remove the cake from the pan reversing it on a board. Carefully peel off the paper, moistening it with water if it sticks. Cover quickly with jelly or jam, which has been warmed just enough to admit of spreading. Roll and pin a band of paper round it until the cake is cold then dust the top with powdered sugar. Spreading and rolling must be done quickly, as the cake will crack if rolled after cooling.

SPRING SUIT OF EXTREME TYPE.

BERNARD MODEL FROM J. M. GIDDINGS CO

Skirts continue to be very narrow in effect, though often fullness is added by means of invisible pleats or by a laces over pleated petticoats. The latter means has been employed to give a narrow skirt sufficient width for walking. The skirt is slashed to the knee at either side over an underskirt which has pleats at center and back. The suit is a model of silky English Mohair in dark gray and the panel trimmings are of gray taffeta, outlined with rows of tiny crocheted buttons. The hat is a coolie model of leghorn faced with velvet, with a willow shako feather in pale coral color at one side.

FOR CHINA.

"China day" is an important occasion in a household. A wooden tub should be lined with a soft cloth, pearl ash dissolved in warm water, and the best antique cups and saucers, vases and plates washed carefully in it. A pastry brush always should be kept with which to work out dust which has collected in the crevices of china figures, while, after draining the china on a wooden board, it is dried with a soft cloth and then polished with a silk handkerchief.

Putty to clean antique glass and wet whitening for pewter are two other secrets of a successful cleaning day. For the insides of decanters and bottles nothing is better than to soap small pieces of blotting paper and fill the bottle with them, adding water to reach half way up, and then shaking energetically until the contents froth.

BRIGHT COLORS SPRING WEAR

Make way, all colors of spring, for emerald green and cerise. They have taken possession of the shops in New York and are conspicuously displayed in all the showcase windows. If you take a walk down Fifth avenue, nine out of every ten of the fashionable places will have in their display windows something with a touch of emerald green or cerise. Emerald green and black is a popular combination in tailored hats for early spring wear. Many are black, faced with green, of vice versa, the effect being quite striking. Green is shown in dresses as well as in millinery. One afternoon frock had a foundation of emerald green mes-saline with an overdress of navy blue chiffon embroidered heavily around the bottom. On the waist was a conventional design of green and blue. A waist of black and white striped silk had pipings of the green and a green tailored bow, very flat and tight, gave the finishing touch to the collar of Irish crocheted lace. Emerald green slippers and stockings to match are also shown.

Smart Cerise Hat.

Cerise seems to have run mostly to hats, though a touch of it may be found in practically all fashionable apparel and accessories. In its deeper shades it is represented on millinery by the American Beauty rose. One stunning broad black hat had a band of white straw edging the brim underneath. The smartest possible sort of a big cerise bow was placed flat on one side of the crown and extended out of the brim, while underneath there was a semicircle of tiny American Beauty roses. Great flaming cerise hats and cunning little cerise bonnets vie with each other for favor, each having its coterie of followers.

A dull white crepe afternoon dress has a tulle of black crepe chiffon, underneath which are drawn bands of cerise ribbon to give close lines to the figure. The velled effect of the bright color is highly effective. A white evening dress heavily embroidered in crystal beads is built empire fashion. Around the waist is drawn a silken cord of American Beauty shade, and the crystal overdress is laced down the side with the cord, which ends in heavy tassels. With it are worn satin slippers and stockings to match the cord.

Highly Colored Neckwear.

Neckwear shows in marked degree the incursion of green cerise. Dutch collars are fastened with perky little bows in these shades, and they form a bright touch of color to top the jabot. They have likewise found their way with renewed zeal into the parasol department, where they are built into the oddest imaginable. The girl who follows the fashions cannot make a mistake in adding to her spring wardrobe something emerald green or cerise, or both.

JOHN DREW IN REFRESHING ROLE

"Smith" Proves Exceedingly Clever Play and Delights Audience.

Admirers of Mr. John Drew and certain of an admirable company were more than gratified last night at the Majestic in the production of "Smith" in which Mr. Drew was supported by such familiar actresses as Miss Isabel Irving, Miss Mary Boland and Miss Jane Laurel, who have been seen with him in other plays, and by Morton Selten, Hassard Short, Lewis Casson and Sybil Thorndike, who were comparative if not entire strangers to audiences in this city.

For many years Mr. Drew has not scored so heavily with a Fort Wayne audience as in the role of Tom Freeman in this satirical Maugham play of "Smith." The arrangement of a class of women who have no nobler purpose in life than to possess wealth, dress richly, play bridge daily and much of the time for money and escape all real responsibility, even to having childless homes, is satirical and even bitter. Frivolous and brainless, the men and women of the play with two exceptions, are depicted as virtuous only because they have become too selfish and empty-headed, and too engrossed in idle pleasures to have even the temptations of normal men and women. The exceptions are Smith, a parlor maid, and Tom Freeman, who has been living on a farm in South Africa for a number of years and has come home to England to visit his sister.

Hardly too much praise can be accorded Miss Isabel Irving and Mr. Hassard Short in their portrayal of the extreme roles of this phase of social life in England and in this country, a phase which produces a condition truly deplorable, that of men and women who drink continually without getting drunk, who gamble without injuring others than themselves, who, if so fortunate as to have children, leave them to the care of servants. Miss Mary Boland was thoroughly delightful as "Smith," and Mr. Drew was a refreshing type of normal, self-respecting manhood. There is much of comedy in the play and the lines are sparkling at times with repartee.

WORKING FOR STEREOPTICON.

Pupils and Teachers of Lakeside School Occupy Spare Moments Raising Money.

It has been a common thing within a few years for school children to give entertainments to raise money towards buying something for the buildings which they attend. Sometimes there have been several of these entertainments in which the parents and friends in the district are as much interested as the children, within a year. Just now the school children in Lakeside are as busy as they can be. It has been a long time since this school has been similarly busy, but now every one from Miss Wilber, principal of the Normal school and the building, down to the primary grades, are working for a stereopticon. Already there have been many dollars raised by the children. They have made candy and popped corn, which they have sold. They have collected piles of newspapers and discarded rubber goods and taken them to the school and the janitor has sorted carefully the junk for the dealers so it will bring a higher price. The children have made little articles in kindergartens, sewing and art departments to sell. They have asked for contributions of fresh eggs and taken

A CHESS PLAYING DIPLOMAT.

As the Friend of Napoleon, James Mortimer Found Him a Home.

(New York Sun.)
The death of James Mortimer, journalist, playwright, linguist and chess player, removes from the world of bohemia a once prominent figure. Few people have lived a more crowded life than he.

American by birth, he left his country when 23 years old as attaché to the United States legation in Paris. In the course of his life in Paris Mortimer had confidential relations with Napoleon III. He was the last to speak with the dethroned emperor before the fatal operation at Chislehurst in 1872. That Napoleon went to live at Chislehurst was due to a fortuitous meeting of Mortimer with a chess player friend of his named Strode.

When the Empress Eugenie arrived at Hastings in September, 1870, Mortimer was the first person to whom she telegraphed. As he was hastening down the Strand to take a train to Hastings he met Strode, who asked him to dinner. Mortimer replied by showing him the empress' telegram, explaining to him the empress' flight and homeless condition.

"My house, Camden Place, Chislehurst, is empty," said Strode. "Could you ask the empress to honor me by going there as my guest?"

And so it came about that Camden Place, Chislehurst, sheltered the exiled imperial family, who took the house as Mr. Strode's tenants. Napoleon died there two years later, but the empress stayed on for another eight years, until she removed to her present residence at Farnborough Hill.

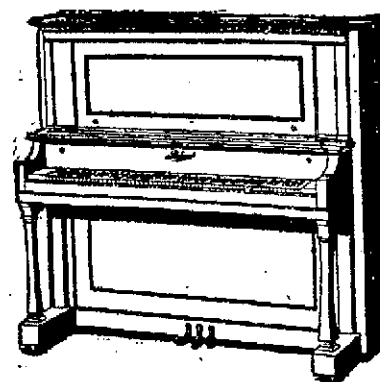

As editor of the London Figaro, Mortimer stamped his personality on a bright and prosperous journal quite unlike anything else. A prosecution for libel, in which Mortimer went to prison rather than disclose the name of a contributor, was the ruin of the paper. To the last Mortimer was a delightful conversationalist, with an astonishing memory for facts, dates, references and quotations, even after he had passed his 80th year.

Chess was his ruling passion and he was at San Sebastian, Spain, for the chess tournament when the end came to him.

F. M. Graham and A. C. Watson, division engineer and assistant division engineer respectively of the Pennsylvania, have returned from Chicago, where they attended the meeting of the Maintenance of Way association and also visited the maintenance of way and signal supply exhibition at the Coliseum.

The novel plaid effects in vells are very striking and add quite a bright note of color to the otherwise rather sombre costume.

AT THE MAJESTIC

MADAME "X."

The Great Paris and New York Sensation at Majestic This Evening.

Many persons who attend the presentation of "Madame X," the thrilling drama which Henry W. Savage offers at the Majestic this evening, are mystified at the three loud raps that precede the rise of the curtain upon each act. There is something awe-inspiring about these three measured, solemn blows that fit the atmosphere of this great play perfectly—they suggest an almost sinister note that often makes the blood run cold for a fraction of a second.

The explanation of the curious rappings is, however, very simple. Mr. Savage is merely maintaining the characteristic French atmosphere of the play by following an ages-old custom of the Parisian stage. There where the theater orchestra is not so usual a matter as here, it is the habit to announce the readiness of the actors to proceed by having the stage manager take a heavy bluegown and slowly and measuredly strike the floor of the stage. The spectators understand and at once cease their chattering and pay attention to the traffic of the boards.

"Madame X" is not merely the work of a French author, but it had its premiere at the famous Parisian playhouse called the Theater Porte St. Martin. Hence Mr. Savage adopted a manner familiar to that theater. In every other respect also is the production of "Madame X" under Mr. Savage's guidance made in the French manner. All the exquisite detail-work in the matter of scenery, costumes and stage appointments for which the Parisian stage is famous is duplicated with extraordinary care.

A Surprise Musical Comedy is "The Broken Idol," which will be presented for the first time in Fort Wayne at the Majestic on Thursday night. It is called by Chicago, New York and Boston critics the play of surprises because every minute some mechanical novelty or surprise is introduced. The play is not without a plot and the supposed killing of a Chinaman, which turns out to be only a Chinese idol. Many entanglements ensue, and through it all a very pretty love story. The scenes are all laid in California, which gave great scope for an artist's brush. It is chucked full of pretty whistling tunes and to top it all, W. F. Mann has gathered together a strong company of fifty headed by Nat Phillips and Perle Barti. Mr. Phillips' comedy is of the kind you laugh at. Miss Barti, while only twenty, has created a furore with her pretty face and phenomenal voice. Others in the cast are Glen L. Beveridge, Silence Tower, Hazel Drake and Earle Dewey, and a big bunch of American Beauty chorus. Among the many song hits are "A China Doll," "Love Makes the World Go Round," "Alabama," "Springtime," "Marie," "The Gay Coquette," and others. That wizard of stage craft, Gus Sohler, staged the production, devoting two months of time before he said, "Go forth, you have a real attraction."

HIS FUNDS FAIL; CAN'T GIVE BOND

Harry Organ, Alleged King of Forgers, is in Jail at Logansport.

MADE $30,000 A YEAR

Logansport, Ind., March 22.—Harry C. Organ, of Marion, held here on charges of uttering a forgery for $496 on the City National bank of this city, for giving a check for $491.80 on B. D. Burk, a Decatur (Ind.) grain dealer, and for forging a check on J. C. Watson, a grain dealer of Boone, Ind., for $518, is in jail under $9,000 bond.

Organ's forgeries are said to have amounted to $30,000 a year.

He was arraigned in circuit court on a bench warrant and charged with passing a forged check of the City National bank of this city. He pleaded not guilty and his bond was fixed at $5,000, which with the $4,000 in cash bonds which Organ gave yesterday, in the municipal and justices' courts makes his bond $9,000, more than he seems able to raise.

There was a clash between Cass county authorities and Sheriff Durkin, of Adams county, when it was decided to arraign Organ in this county. Sheriff Durkin and C. H. Niblick, president of the Old Adams County bank of Decatur, insisted that Organ be turned over to them and taken to Adams county for trial.

Two Identify Organ.
Organ was bound over this morning following the testimony of A. P. Jenks, cashier of the City National bank, and Earl Moss, paying teller, both positively identifying Organ as the man who cashed a check at the bank Dec. 17, 1908, bearing the signature of Walter Bishop, president of the Bishop Elevator company and calling for $496.

A. P. Jenks created a furore in court when he told how last Sunday he met Organ at the Broadway Methodist church, of which Jenks is a deacon and a pillar. Jenks said that Organ occupied a front pew and that he was attracted by the dignified looking stranger. Jenks said he handed Organ a hymn book and was delighted with the rich voice in which Organ chanted the psalms. Jenks said that at the conclusion of the services he hastened to Organ's side, assisted him on with his overcoat, gave him the right hand of fellowship, and urged him to attend services again, but at that time did not recognize in him the man who forged a check for $496 on his bank.

A peculiar feature of the case is that every check which Organ is alleged to have forged was cashed on the 17th of the month and each was on a grain elevator company. The Watson forgery in Boone, Ind., was committed Nov. 17, 1910; the Bishop forgery in Logansport, Dec. 17, 1908, and the Burk forgery at Decatur, March 17, 1911.

Attorney George W. Funk, counsel for the City National bank has brought a civil action against Organ demanding $557.50 in an attempt to recover the money alleged to have been drawn from the bank by Organ on the check forged on the Bishop Elevator company. After preparing the suit tonight Attorney Funk says he has information from officials of the Bankers' association to the effect that it can be shown where Organ's forgeries have for several years aggregated $30,000.

HOW TO GET FAT.

Use Samose, Says Druggist Meyer Bros. Co. and Put on Good Flesh.

The almost universal interest in physical culture is the best evidence that can be offered as to the need of a simple and scientific method of making thin people fat, increasing strength and restoring health.

Athletics, when carried to an extreme, often result in straining the vital organs. How much better it would be for the average person to regain health, strength and flesh by using Samose. This flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it enters the stomach; it helps the organs to assimilate the food and extract the flesh-forming elements; it builds up the muscles and rounds out the limbs into shapely plumpness.

Samose has been so successful in making thin people fat and restoring the weak and run down to strength and health that Meyer Bros. Co., the popular druggists, sell it under their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit.

Quality is even more important than price in purchasing Furniture and Carpets, but you get equally as well taken care of in one direction as the other when you trade with the Foster Furniture Company. The advantages of trading with a cash house in buying your housekeeping outfit or in adding to that which you have, are pretty generally understood. The quality of the goods you buy are superior and the prices much lower. Then to those who pay all cash at time of purchase, the Foster Furniture Company give a discount of five per cent. If you prefer not to do that, you will be allowed to pay part down, and the balance by the week or month.

SINGLE TEN DAYS.
Fickle Wife Divorced and Married in Less Than Fortnight.

Bluffton, Ind., March 22.—A license was issued yesterday morning by County Clerk Adalgo Wandel which marks another chapter to a serial story which was started a few months ago when Gar Huston caused the arrest of John or "Yonah" Householder whom he found visiting at his home one evening when he, Huston, took Marshal Charles Pierce home with him as an escort. Householder paid a fine the next day, and a short time later Huston gave further expression to his sentiments in the matter by filing a suit for divorce. He was granted a decree of divorce a week ago last Saturday.

March 11th, and this apparently just suited his wife, Lucrètia Ellen Huston, for it did not take her long to decide to have her name changed again. She and householder appeared at the clerk's office yesterday morning, and procured a marriage license and they are now husband and wife. Lucrètia remained in single harness only ten days. Householder, her new husband, is a fireman.

ANNIS OFFERS A SAGER BACK FOR BRACE OF GAMES JOB WITH GRANT

South Bend Wants Shamrocks for Saturday and Sunday Combats.

ASKS FOR CENTILVERE

Bert Annis, of the South Bend team, has been offered a sager back for a brace of games for Saturday and Sunday. The offer is being made by the Shamrocks, who are looking for a player to replace the late Harry Brown. Annis is a right-handed pitcher and has been with the South Bend team for several years.

A letter has been written to Aggie Grant asking him to use of Centilvere in event he declines to report to Evansville. The local outfielder has not fully determined whether or not he will enter professional ball again, but it is likely that he will not and in event he adheres to this determination he is wanted for one of the gardens by the Shamrocks.

Warning has been issued to semi-professional managers not to use suspended players or men who are under contract at one place to report to another. The team that owns them consents to allow them to play it relieves the club with which they are connected of the possibility of getting in bad odor with organized baseball.

Centilvere will not report to any club other than Evansville, and as Grant and Annis have been good friends, it is not likely that the Evansville will offer any serious objection to the proposition to play his man here. In event he declines Centilvere cannot be used in any games with clubs governed by the national agreement.

Minchell Kitzredge, manager of the Saginaw club, has agreed to let Centilvere play first base for the Cleary team and this is regarded as a bit of good luck. He has signed with the Saginaw team, but the death of a brother made it necessary that he remain at home and he notified his manager that he could not report. Under these conditions consent was given.

The first real out-of-town workout will be taken on Sunday afternoon when the club will use the Knitting mills grounds, which have been offered by Manager Smith. Weather permitting, the men will be put through the first preparatory stunts and the grind will be kept up until they round into form.

With the best looking the club has ever had in its history, the manager is anxious to get together a strong team and will try out a number of youngsters who are seeking to break in.

LOOKOUT FOR THIS UMP.

The Eastern league has corralled a strapping umpire in John Pollock, of Kewanee, Ill. In the first place, he is the heaviest man on the staff, tipping the scales at 225. He is six feet tall and has an athlete's physique. He is a Scotchman, and comes from a famous family of cricketers. He played football at Princeton college and was a terror. Then he became a professional baseball player in the Three Five league. He is also a member of notes having appeared against such men as Frankie Glavin and Ed Burns, and although he has never appeared as a boxer, he knows much about the game, because he has seconded Billy Burke, a fellow-townsmen of Pollock. The umpire is now in training at Hot Springs, Ark.

JOHNNY THOMPSON CAME BACK TOO HEAVY FOR A LIGHTWEIGHT

Chicago, March 22.—Johnny Thompson, of Sycamore, Ill., is back in town. John left here several months ago under contract to Hugh McIntosh to do little with anyone that he could not handle. Thompson, who had been in the city for a long time, was looking for a fight. He was a heavyweight, and he was looking for a fight. He was a heavyweight, and he was looking for a fight.

John left here a supposed lightweight. But what a difference the salt air of the briny deep and a trip to the Antipodes made with the Sycamore fighter. Thompson got big from his feet up. Thompson got big from his feet up. Thompson got big from his feet up.

Thompson is certainly a bear in size. His weight is 160 pounds. He is a heavyweight, and he is looking for a fight. He is a heavyweight, and he is looking for a fight. He is a heavyweight, and he is looking for a fight.

Well, that settled it. I didn't pass up anything from that time on. And you know how it was. A fellow said seven times a day, and, be-

TIEMAN MAKES BOW

Evansville, Ind., March 22.—James "Lip" Skager, hit batsman long engaged with an illness that kept him in bed most of the winter, is back for a tryout on his old job at third base and he can show nothing like his recent last spring he will get the berth as Manager Aggie Grant would dislike to see him lose out.

George Tieman is here and there are now on the Evansville roster only three men in the Central league who started playing when the circuit was organized and who have been continuously with it since that time.

Sager slumped badly last season, but Grant could not find a man to take his place and he held to him as he has great confidence in him and believes he is still fast enough for class B ball.

Men are reporting every day for Grant's early start and he will look the youngsters over thoroughly before the arrival of the older men on his team. Dick Orefe has been working out, although he worked hard last winter and is in pretty fair shape.

HOLDING THE THIRD BASE JOB

ZIMMERMAN OF THE CHICAGO CUBS

With the announcement that he had selected his regular team for the season, Manager Frank L. Chance, of the champion Cubs, has been playing Heinie Zimmerman at third base in place of Harry Steinfield. The latter declined to sign until he got a three-year contract and payers were asked on his part. Two clubs declined to waive and he was signed by Chance but peace has not been fully established and the veteran third baseman has been watching his younger rival from the bench.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 22.—Manager Eddie Wheeler says that unless John J. "Kiki" Carney reports at the same time the other men do he will not report at all, but will be put on the suspended list. The manager has counted on him as the regular first baseman and wants him here to work with his infield. Carney wants to finish his school course and join the club about the first of June.

Johnny Bortwell, who has been looked upon as a holdout, is in camp and ready to take his prep stunts along with the other men who are here to try to make the team. He is a little over weight, but is young and can easily reduce. He looks like the choice for first base this season, although he may be sent to the outfield.

DOBARD WANTS MORE MONEY. Dayton's Shortstop Has Not Yet Signed His Contract for 1931.

Dayton, O., March 22.—Just three Vets and a half have been signed for 1931, but there is no trouble regarding Konick and Fisher. The catcher and pitcher will report on scheduled time and the matter of signing is not expected to take a great amount of time. The only holdout on the team is Dobard, the shortstop who took Dolly Stark's place last fall after the latter was traded to the Vets. Dobard played good ball for the Vets, but the salary which he is demanding is bigger than that paid in the Central league and the manager is not willing to see where he is entitled to more coin.

CLUB OUT WITH DEFI. The Amateur Baseball team have organized and after going through some training stunts will report to meet any team in the city under 18 years of age. The following is the line up: Ralph Wilkins, catcher and manager; Conrad Moll, 1b; and captain; Robert Smith, 2b; Elmer Ruppel, 3b; Lester Lapp, 4b; Elmer Wilkins, cf; Al Schilling, p.

LOVE LORN EARL STICKS TO GIRL TO "VIC" SAIER

He Said It Was Mother But Folks Do Say It Is Another.

ANYHOW HE BALKED WON'T PLAY SUNDAYS

Terre Haute, Ind., March 22.—Last season when Earl Hennis packed his grip every time he was asked to play, he was a real stick to the girls. He was a real stick to the girls. He was a real stick to the girls.

He got away with this stuff, earned a reputation that spoke for him the nickname of "Mother" and finally he got into the belief that he went to Rockville solely because he suffered acute attacks of nostalgia superinduced by and complicated extensively with financial effect.

He was regarded as a model youth and would still have been working at it but for the fact that a brother who arrived here today slipped it to Louie P. Shinn and Edward Wheeler that the mother was a pure bunk and that while it is a skilled attraction that is holding the team in the city is a brand new attraction to the hobbie and partizan variety that Mrs. Hennis.

Just what a powerful hold that girl has on Hennis his brother told him manfully the family broke to take her riding instead of occupying his place at shortstop. Hennis' cardinal sin was that he was a hobbie and partizan variety that Mrs. Hennis.

In villages about the size of Rockville "cutting out" is a very fashionable and very common practice. To cut a fellow out of a game is to cut him out of a game. To cut a fellow out of a game is to cut him out of a game.

If any of the dog-fence swains down about Rockville think they can pull off any of that cut-outting on Earl Hennis and his pitchers may come to regret it. As that girl displays enough interest in Earl to entertain him seven nights a week with a morning and a matinee performance Hennis is not likely to be one of them.

What business is all of this either reader. It stands between him and a real life. It stands between him and a real life. It stands between him and a real life.

NEW YORK. March 22.—Tommy Murphy, of this city, and Packey McFarland, of Chicago, were matched yesterday in box ten rounds here some time within the next three weeks. The exact date and the club have not yet been agreed upon, but the boys will probably clash at Billy Gibson's Fairmont club on April 7.

Catchers—Thomas, Livingston and Lapp. Infielders—Bender, Coombs, Plank, Moran, Russell and Collamore. Batsmen—Infielders—Davis, Collins, Barry and Baker. Outfielders—Murphy, Oldring, Lord and Hogan.

The first of the 100 out-of-town bowlers entered in the Tri-State Bowling tournament went on the drives this afternoon when squads from Van Wert and St. Mary's, O.; Hillsdale and Jackson, Mich., shot their five-men, double and single events.

The last of the visiting squads will not go on until 11:30 o'clock and will finish up and return home early tomorrow morning. Only a few local bowlers are entered for the matches today.

Some high-class bowling was done in the doubles last night and Schwartz set a total of 218 to shoot at. He rolled 200 or better in each of his games. Carl Tschel finished just one pin behind him and is in second place. Lenz ran 223 in his third game and got third place, and after a bad tumble in the second game, George Stang, who is in the third and registered 235, which was the best individual mark of the day and which beat Chester Schiefer one pin. He rolled 235 in his final round with the Heidelberg.

The Fort Wayne Printing company was not disturbed by any of the six-five-man squads that shot last night. Lee Ivins went into third place with 2,655 and the other scores were low as a rule.

IN TWO WARS AND AN OLD BOATMAN

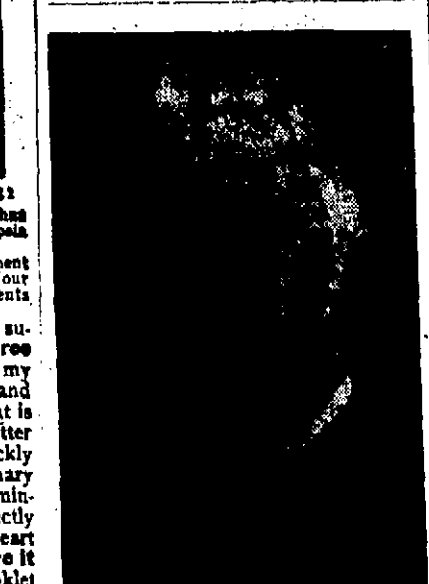

Fought in Mexican War and War of Rebellion—Service on Canal.

SAILED ON THE LAKES

One of the very few surviving veterans of the war of the United States with Mexico is William Curran, now living in this city with his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Weldgenant, at her home 2405 South Calhoun street.

Mr. Curran also has the distinction of being a veteran of the war of the rebellion—a soldier in two wars—besides the additional distinction of having been for years a boatman on the canals, great lakes, and rivers and the owner of steamboats on the Mississippi river, the waters of which he long navigated.

Mr. Curran is now past 78 years of age.

age. He was born at Buffalo, N. Y., and in his early life was a boatman on the canals of that state. As a boy under age he enlisted in the army at the time the Mexican war broke out and went from New York to Mexico.

"There were twenty-six of us—all canal boatmen—who enlisted at the time," he said. "It was just as winter was coming on and the canals were closed to navigation. We had nothing to do and we thought we might just as well go to war and fight and so we went."

The trip was made by ocean to Mexico and landing there the company in which he and his companions were put was assigned to guerrilla duty. In this they were engaged during the entire war. For very much of the time they were in and around Vera Cruz.

Returning from the war, Mr. Curran again resumed boating, soon getting on to the great lakes and later on the Mississippi river, where he became the owner of boats. In this line of business he made his home in Illinois, and while there enlisted as a soldier during the war of the rebellion.

Retiring from the steamboat business some years ago and his wife being dead, Mr. Curran made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Weldgenant, in Illinois, coming here with them about three years ago when Mr. Weldgenant took the position of purchasing agent with the Fort Wayne and Northeastern Indiana Traction company in this city.

Mr. Curran while in the war of the rebellion was wounded three times. He served in an Illinois regiment. Approaching eighty years of age, he is yet in vigorous health.

John H. Beckman, who helped build the Pennsylvania railroad and when it was opened to business, took a position as a brakeman on it, died at the home of his daughter in Pittsburgh yesterday, aged seventy-nine years. Mr. Beckman was a classmate of Andrew Carnegie and was intimately acquainted with many of the leading Pennsylvania officials, including the late Robert Pitcairn. For forty-five years, with the exception of four years he was in the army, Mr. Beckman had charge of a passenger train. He was thus engaged during the great strike and railway riots of 1877, one of the most serious disturbances ever experienced by the Pennsylvania. Mr. Beckman has been on the pension list for the past nine years.

TESTS PROVE EFFICIENCY.

Electric Works Orders More Wood Magnetite Lamps.

The six magnetite arc lamps of the latest pattern devised by General Manager J. J. Wood, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, constructed some time ago and placed under test with lamps of other makes, have convinced Mr. Wood of their efficiency and he has ordered fifty more of them manufactured. "I hope to place orders for thousands of these lamps within the next few months," said Mr. Wood. "They are the only lamp with which I have been fully satisfied and I am confident they will be winners when their merits become known." These lamps are distinguished in description from other lamps gotten out by Mr. Wood as the "underfed, up draught" magnetite lamp.

These are high tension wires which carry current to the round house to operate the turntable, the lights and for changing batteries in the testing department. They will be moved north a number of

BIG PARTY OF IMMIGRANTS.

They Stop in City Long Enough to Dine at Restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. How, of the Nickel Plate restaurant, were called upon to feed a number of very hungry immigrants last evening and when the feast was over, very little in the way of prepared edibles remained in the establishment. The party was made up of a number of residents of the northwest who went to the old country last fall to spend the winter with the associates of their childhood and a number of their relatives and friends who come here to settle on farms in the Dakotas and in Minnesota. There were twelve cars in the train which carried them and about 500 people in the party.

The Knox Motto:

Don't Make Excuses Make Good

Somebody says enough—but it was worried a good many hat makers and a great many hat sellers. Trying to get just the right shade, just the right curve or just the right crown, and at the same time produce something new in hats, often calls forth the excuses instead of "the hit."

Knox hats are "it." We've a lot of new ones ready right now—the 1211 crop.

PRICES FIRM IN MARKETS

The Day Witnesses Few Changes in Quotations and No New Features.

ONIONS ADVANCED

Country butter is coming into the city in sufficient quantities to supply the demand locally and ranges in price from 25c to 26c for the best grades at retail. Eggs keep at 17c and 18c. The farmers are busy with their spring work and the fact that but few of them are coming to town makes the local market rather quiet. Hay came in pretty good quantities yesterday. Nineteen loads passed over the city scales, with six loads of oats and eleven of corn. There is no demand, but farmers do not seem anxious to sell at present prices. Considerable oats are being held in the country in the hope of an advance. Along other lines the markets show no changes today. Prices on about everything are remaining firm. The market for hogs is weak, following the decline in prices on Monday. Onion quotations today show an advance in prices. For some time there has been a downward rush at wholesale and in commission. Now they have not to the dollar mark and are selling at retail for $1.25 a bushel.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Ill., March 22.—Commission house buying to a fair amount rallied wheat today after a falling dip. Soft wheat was only a few points higher and the initial weakness resulted largely from lower prices at Liverpool where the decline had been caused by the general view of the outlook for crops in America. Cable dispatches also reported pressure to displace of cargoes from India and Argentina. Initial figures here were the same as last night to 8 1/2% down. May started at 89 1/2% to 90% and recovered to 90 1/2%.

Corn sagged because although the weather had become unsettled not enough rain fell to make roads bad. The market ruled however, with wheat. May opened unchanged to 1/2c off at 48 1/2% to 49% and reacted to 48 1/2%.

Oats were easy, but widely swayed by other grains. May, the outlier, was 20 1/2% to 21% different from last night, went to 30 1/2% and then back to 30 1/2%.

Steadiness characterized provisions. Pork sales were higher to 1/2c lower, with May options at $16.55 for pork, $8.90 for lard and $9.35 for ribs.

MAY CALL ANOTHER ELECTION.

Kokomo, Ind., March 22.—It is possible Kokomo may be compelled to call another election as a result of the alleged frauds in connection with the recent election, which has now reached the courts. Arguments by the "drys" are in progress before the county commissioners. Although the commissioners did not indicate how they would rule there is a growing feeling that they may call the recent election invalid.

The Cause of Colds

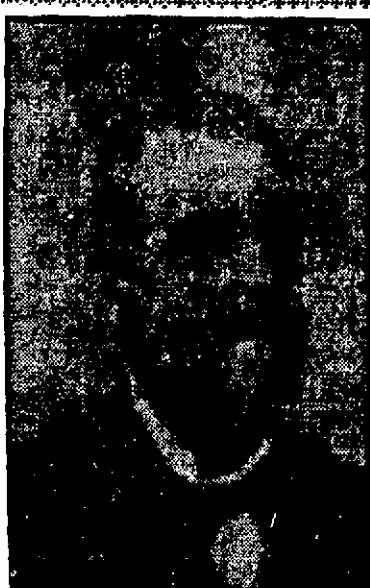

Good Advice Regarding the Prevention of Coughs and Colds.

If people would only fortify and strengthen the system, the majority of cases of coughs, colds and pneumonia might be avoided. These troubles are frequently due to weakness, which produces a catarrhal condition of the mucous membrane, which is an internal skin of the body. When this skin is weakened it becomes easily infected with germs which cause many of the diseases to which flesh is heir. Healthy mucous membranes are essential safeguards of the body's general health.

We have a remedy which we honestly believe to be unsurpassed in excellence for the prevention of coughs, colds and all catarrhal conditions. It is the prescription of a famous physician, who has an enviable reputation of thirty years of cures gained through the use of this formula. We promise to make no charge for the medicine should it fail to do as we claim. We urge everybody who has need of such a medicine to try Rexall Mucu-Tone.

It stands to reason that we could not afford to make such statements and give our own personal guarantee to this remedy if we were not prepared to prove the reasonableness of our claim in every particular, and we see no reason why any one should hesitate to accept our offer and try it. We have two sizes of Rexall Mucu-Tone, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Sometimes a 50-cent bottle is sufficient to give marked relief. As a general thing the most chronic case is relieved with an average of three large bottles. You can obtain Rexall Remedies in Fort Wayne only at our stores—The Rexall Stores, Meyer Bros. Co. Four Drug Stores.

We have just received from the East the First Pantalon Skirts to be shown in this city

The trouser skirt was first introduced in Paris by Paul Poirer and Mue. Doucet. A modification was introduced in America, and has received much favorable comment.

The best type of the various developments of the trousers-skirt idea is herewith illustrated in two views, and the original shown in different materials on our second floor.

From a practical viewpoint these Pantalon Skirts are admirably adapted for golfing, bicycling and all athletic sports and out-ing purposes.
